Have Mounts—Harness Tests Start at 1:30 o'Clock—Track Slightly Soft for the Trotters.

That the levers of the thorough breds will have plenty of sport during the State Fair was shown yesterday, when two carloads of horses arrived where meetings are now being held. This brings the number stabled at the grounds up to 200.

grounds up to 200.

In the lot were a number of steeple-chase performers, as well as a number of shifty ones over the flat.

Bob Taylor and Tommy Wright, steeplechase riders, will have mounts during the meet. This assures the lovers of the jumpers good close contention and thrilling finishes.

Unless it rains hard the track will be in good condition for the sport, though a little soft for the harness events.

The opening card for to-day consists of two harness events, two on the flat and a steeplechase. Starting Judge Fred Upton will get the trotters in motion at 1:30 o'clock. This will be followed by the 2:14 pace, after which the runners will be in the spotlight.

ARMY AND NAVY MAY

Athletic Boards Arrange Schedule Which Only Needs Sauction of

Which Only Needs Sanction of Secretary Garrison.

Unless Secretary Garrison interposes an objection, which is not looked for, the football games between the Army and Navy teams in 1914 and in 1915 will be held in Philadelphia, and the game in 1916 will take place in New York City. The athletic committees of the military and naval academies ha reached an agreement to that effect. West Point suggested the plan bave two games at Philadelphia and one at New York, for a period of nine years. Annapolis objected to the nine-year feature, but agreed to play the next two games at Philadelphia, and the third at New York, and then if the arrangement was satisfactory to continue on the same basis. West Point agreed to limit the schedule to three annual games as suggested by Annap-olis, and the agreement then lacked only the approval of the Secretaries of War and Navy. Secretary Daniels approved at once, and Secretary Garrison is expected to do so.
